Tisbury ditto. Hartfell ditto.

Those marked *, are already arrived, and are the only Mineral Waters which are at present in request here.

afford some reason to think that there will be a sale for them.

JOHN MONCREIFF has of late made considerable improvements on his ELECTRICAL APPARATUS.—He has formerly mentioned the cases in which he has found Electricity successful; and has only at present to add, that in the

Chronic Rheumatism in particular, it has in every instance either produced a cure, or greatly relieved the

AN imperial edict was issued here on the 11th ult. repealing all edicts, ordinances, and regulations concerning the corn trade in these provinces, and declaring that henceforward every one shall be at liberty to export or import all kinds of grain and meal, without being subjected to the inspection of the police, or any other restriction or formality whatever, except the payment of the duties hitherto paid on the exportation or importation of those articles.

LLOYD'S LIST.—Jan. 9.
CAPTAIN John, of the Potomack Planter, on the 21st ult. spoke the Lady St John, M^{rs} Allister, from London to Grenada, 50 leagues westward of Scilly; out two days from Portland, all well.

The Union, Heath, from Bilbao to the coast of France and Flushing, is lost near St. Andro.

The Hero, Walker, from Musquito shore to London, is put into Charleston after springing a leak, and being out four weeks.

The Prosperous, Major, from Newfoundland for Pool, was spoken with about 100 leagues to the eastward of the Banks, in a most distressed condition. She had the day before shipped a very violent sea, whereby the captain, mate, and a passenger were washed overboard, and the ship damaged; however there is reason to think the goods safe to Ireland.

LONDON.—Jan. 10.
The surplus million, and Treaty, are expected to form the chief articles of opposition, in their debate on the Address. The impeachment is not to be brought forward early; some say, not before the holidays.

Several plans have been proposed to the Ministry, for the regulation of certain offices, imports, &c. but are not to be taken into consideration in any respect, until the material business of the next session is ended.

Comotions have been very frequent at Constantinople since the rumours that the Captain Pacha had failed in Egypt, and it is with the utmost difficulty that the Divan can amuse the people with fictitious relations.

Mr Orde's health is by no means perfectly re-established; and it is a doubt amongst his friends, whether he will be able to undergo the fatigues of the approaching campaign.

In consequence of the new arrangements which are on the tapis, the Marquis of Lansdown came express to town from Bowood on Saturday morning. Whether the man of the woods is again to be personally engaged in the battle of ministerial warfare, we understand is not yet determined, but it is certain, that all his influence is exerted at the present crisis, to secure as powerful an interest as possible in the cabinet, against a future occasion, when the time being less "out of joint," the accomplishment of his purposes may be effected with more security.

Lord Chief Baron Skynner has behaved in the most handsome manner on the subject of his resignation: His was simple and unconditional. His friends endeavoured to dissuade him from resigning so soon. They said he might hold his high office much longer, and so retain the emoluments of it; and that at length he might make good terms for himself and his family: But the worthy judge was not influenced by these arguments. He said, that he felt he was no longer able to discharge the duties of his office; and that confidence and honour would not suffer him to take the emoluments, without sharing in the fatigue of discharging them.

The following commanders in the East India service are to take leave of the Court of Directors on Friday next in Leadenhall-street, previous to their setting off to join their respective ships:

Captain Chatfield, of the Rodney, for Madeira and Bengal.

Captain Clarkson, of the Osterly, for Coast and China.

Captain Lindegreen, of the Barrington, for China.

Captain Wakefield, of the Lafcelles, for Coast and China.

Captain Huddart, of the Royal Admiral, for ditto.

Captain Macmah, of the Henry Dundas, for Bombay.

Captain Cooper, of the Atlas, for Bengal.

And in the course of the month there are eleven more Captains to take leave, whose ships are getting ready as fast as possible for different parts of India.

The ships appointed by the Admiralty Board to go out to the Leeward Islands with Sir Andrew Snape Hammond, who has accepted of the command on that station, in the room of Sir R. Pickers-ton resigned, are the Jupiter of 50 guns; Maidstone, of 28; and Resolution frigate, of 16 guns; the vessels are all coppered, fully manned, victualled for six months, and at Spithead ready to sail, when final orders are sent down to them.

The foreign troops engaged for the East India Company's settlements in Asia, and going out in the ships which compose the present fleet, are all Hanoverians, (hired of his Majesty in his capacity as Sovereign of the Electoral dominions) half the number which are to go out have been already brought over from Stade, where they were embarked, and on the arrival of the transports in the river, they were put on board the Company's ships; Chertfield, Captain Boswell; Theis, Captain Nutt; Lord Camden, Captain Dance; Locke, Captain Baird; Melville Castle, Captain Dundas; Britannia, Captain Cummyng; and Princess Royal, Captain Horncastle, while those ships were at Gravesend who are to convey them to St Helena, Bombay, and Bengal. There is another detachment from Bremer Leach, which are expected to be detained in the river Aller by the frosts which have been so severe in Germany, as they are not yet arrived, and some of the East Indians are detained on this account. The cause of the disturbance which these foreigners made on board the Company's ships, is said to be owing to their expectations of better quarters than could possibly be assigned them. The trouble, however, which their complaints had been likely to occasion, has been put an end to, at least for the present.

A treaty of marriage is said to be on the tapis, between Lord Brudenell and Miss Harris, sister to the Ambassador at the Hague. A mutual passion for music, is said to have been the foundation of this harmony of affections. So that when the match does take place, it may very properly be styled a musical meeting.

Another treaty of the same kind, and which reports say is soon to be ratified, subsists between Lord Semple, and Miss Mellish, the lady who has lately gone through so many Courts of Justice, in the dispute with Miss Rankin.

Amongst the succession of projects which are daily suggested and pursued, the scheme of lowering the interest of money is by no means abandoned. It is, however, a measure of very serious moment, and should not be adopted without the most solemn consideration. If the interest of money be reduced without cause, it may answer the purpose of the Minister, by occupying a temporary rise in the funds, but would be, at the same time, of material detriment to the middling orders of the community. But if, on the contrary, the measure should be found justifiable, from the accession of national wealth, it would then, in the language of Sir Joshua Child, "advance the price of land, improve our farms, employ the poor, multiply our artificers, and encrease our foreign trade." The interest of money was first reduced in 1623, from ten to eight per cent. in 1751 to six per cent. and afterwards in 1614, to its present standard.

In the House of Peers, on their meeting, the business respecting the St. Eustatius papers will very early be brought forward by Lord Rodney.

On Friday a Committee from the body of the Wine merchants of this kingdom had a conference with the Minister, at his house in Downing-street, on the subject of the operation of the French Treaty, on that branch of Commerce.

There is to be a grand Cabinet meeting on Saturday next at the Marquis of Stafford's house at Whitehall, to commence some parliamentary arrangements previous to the opening of the ensuing sessions of Parliament.

A reason has been given for Lord Mansfield's not completing the resignation which on the first day of the last term he offered; namely, that were he to resign during the recess, all the writs now issued would be useless, and that therefore we cannot expect his resignation before the Effoign Day. This has been suggested by those who think it impossible that the noble and learned Lord should hesitate to resign from any political reason, after having voluntarily declared his intention, and requested that Ministers would be speedy in their appointment of a successor.

Genuine Anecdote.—When Earl Gower was lately created Marquis of Stafford, the friends of the Countess of Sutherland, who married Viscount Trentham, the Earl's eldest son—congratulated her Ladyship upon the prospect of her becoming a Marchioness:—When the fair Caledonian, declared with a sigh, that she should have felt more pride in seeing the ancient title of Sutherland, superseded in her offspring that of Gower, than in becoming the first Duchess of England.

The title of Sutherland is of so old a creation as the year 1257,—that of Earl Gower only since the year 1746. Lord Gower was aware of this, and availed himself of the plea. And to prevent the consequence of the family from being lost, supplicated the Marquisate, with which he is at present dignified.

The Duke of Devonshire died lately at Paris, and left a bequest of one hundred guineas to be distributed among such poor English, Irish, and Scotch, as should apply for the charity, was by birth a Fitz-James, sister to the present Duke Fitz-James, Marechal of France, and daughter by the second wife of the famous Duke of Berwick. This Lady was consequently grand daughter to King James II. She was of course related, by her father's side, to all that is great in England; and by her mother's, she was related to Lord Viscount Bulkley; her mother having been Miss Bulkley, one of the Maids of Honour to Mary, Queen Consort to James II. daughter to Lieut. General Bulkley, brother to the then Viscount of that name.

Lady Mary Howard has passed her long life with such invariable and systematic economy, as from a jointure of 700 l. per ann. only, to accumulate the sum of 25,000 l. the whole of which, with the deduction of a few trifling legacies, she has bequeathed to her niece Lady Julia Howard. The jointure, of course, devolves to his Lordship, the Earl of Carlisle.

A young lady has lately discovered the whole process of Etruscan painting, and from some examples which she has given of her skill, there is great reason to expect some works that will add to the honour this country has already acquired in the school of the arts.

One Joseph Caulier, a poor man who was born deaf and dumb, was tried lately at Paris for a rape at Perenne, of which he was accused and condemned. The magistrate sentenced him to be whipped and sent to the galleys for life: however this sentence was annulled, in consideration of his not being properly qualified to judge of the nature of the crime, as he was deprived of the two faculties of speech and hearing, so that he is, in consequence of being disordered in his mind, sent to the Bicetre for life, to be treated as a maniac.

The ships bound to Botany Bay will steer the same course as the latter East India ships generally do; viz. between the Canary Islands; from whence they bear away to the coast of South America, to get the trade-winds, and then frequently fall in with the Island of Trinidad, which lies 20 degrees to the southward of the Equinoctial line, where they may find plenty of stock, and fine waters. At this last place Commodore Johnstone left the crew of the Rattlesnake frigate of war, with every utensil for forming a small settlement, which was not persevered in, because the Spaniards claimed the island; but all who were left there, on their return to England, gave such an account of the place, that it may be justly styled an earthly paradise. It is but a small island; produces two crops of corn, peas, and pulse yearly. Currants and gooseberries are in great aundance, with numerous other fruits. Wild hogs, and various kinds of wild fowl, are in great plenty. The coast is supplied with fish; and there are many curious sorts of wood grow there. Such an island, not inhabited, cannot fail of being a comfortable half way call to the Botany Bay voyagers, who may be there recruited in their health, without danger of escaping.

Letters from Berlin bring an account of the death of Mr Gregory, Ambassador of that Court to Dresden, and mention the appointment of Mr De Jacobi, son of Professor Forney, to the honours lately held by the former Gentleman.

A few days since, the Stormont, just arrived from the Straights, landed four forty-two brass pounders at Topping's Wharf, Tooley Street, with several broken pieces of cannon, which were taken up by Mr. Braithwaite, in the Bay of Gibraltar, after the destruction of the Spanish bomb boats.

Mess. Peltiers and Carrier, bankers of St Maloes, stop payment on Christmas eve. Their deficiencies are said to amount to 800,000 livres. It is only eighteen months since they went into business.

The report of the Dey of Algiers having directed his xebecs to capture any ships belonging to the subjects of Great Britain is probably without foundation, as we have the best authority to say, the last advices from Mr Logie, our Consul to that State, do not mention any such circumstance having taken place.

WIND AT DEAL, JAN. 9. E. N. E.

EDINBURGH.

Extract of a letter from London, Jan. 10.

"A meeting of all the members of the cabinet are summoned for Saturday next, at the Marquis of Stafford's, when the new arrangements so long talked of, and now so confidently reported, will, it is said, be made.

"The Commissioners for enquiring into the state of Crown lands, have made a very considerable progress therein, and it is determined, we hear, to clear all the forests, &c. of the timber on them, and plant oak thereon for ship-building, and other purposes.

"A meeting of all the shopkeepers and traders, &c. is to be held on Friday next at Leatherfellers-hall, at which the members of London, Westminster, Middlesex, and the Borough of Southwark, have promised to attend, for the purpose of considering of the most effectual means of procuring a repeal of the shop-tax, the oppression of which is daily more and more experienced.

"A plan is in agitation, and expected to be sanctioned by Government, for the more effectually preventing robberies, &c. as well as for making good the loss individuals may sustain therefrom, by way of opening a subscription of a small sum from every housekeeper throughout England; and, in consequence thereof, not only prosecute any one that may be guilty of the offence, but also reward the person who may have been robbed of, provided it does not exceed a certain sum.

"The ensuing birth-day at St James's is expected to make every appearance as if the Commercial Treaty with France was actually settled and adjusted, as the Court, at the anniversary of her Majesty's birth, to-morrow's evening, is likely to have a greater display of French foppery and French finery, than ever remembered; a vast number of various rich and sumptuous dresses having been already imported on the occasion.

"By letters lately received from Brussels, it appears that the following was the occasion of the late outrage of the students of the University of Louvain, which required the aid of 3000 troops to quell:—

A Professor of Divinity, lately come there from Vienna, began his first lecture in the following words: "In this eighteenth century, in this enlightened age, we no longer reason like St Augustine or St Augustin. We know that virtuous and good men of every religion professed in the world may be saved."—No more was necessary to raise an insurrection in the whole class, who were already offended at his appointment. The enthusiasm was easily communicated to the other classes. The students joined the citizens in crying out, Antiqua Religio! "Our old Religion!" Thus, the admission of other sects to the favour of the Divinity, whose favour these youngsters pretend is reserved for Catholics alone, is the real pretext for this insurrection. The University of Louvain is connected with that of Sorbonne; both of them, it is said, having Charlemagne for their founder; but it would appear that the Parisian Doctors are not fond of intermeddling in this dispute.

On the 8th inst. died at Lynn, in Norfolk, Miss Maria Lidderdale, daughter of the late Dr Thomas Lidderdale.

Yesterday morning, died here, Mr John Fortune, vintner in Edinburgh.

HUNTERS BALL.

Thursday night, the New Assembly Rooms in George-street, New Town, were opened with a very brilliant Ball given by the Noblemen and Gentlemen of the CALEDONIAN HUNT. The company, as usual, was select, and consisted of persons of the first distinction in Scotland. Such an assemblage of beauty, elegance, and taste, perhaps, never appeared before in this country. Upon a moderate computation, the sum expended upon this occasion, in dresses, &c. (exclusive of jewels), cannot be less than ten thousand pounds, which will prove of great benefit, by giving a circulation of money amongst mercers, haberdashers, milliners, &c. The Caledonian Hunt consists of sixty members, seventeen of whom are Noblemen, eleven Barons, and the others in the gentlemanly of large estates. Each member had two ladies and one gentleman's ticket to a away; besides, near ninety others were admitted, which made the company three hundred and twenty one in all.

The dancing in the small room ended about yesterday morning, when the company sat down to supper in the large room at one table, and between four and five o'clock many of the company retired, others continued till past eight. Some foreigners were present, who were much pleased with the manner of dancing; they had seen most of the country of Europe, and gave the preference to the Scotch ladies, whose dresses they also admired. The supper was mostly cold, followed with a good deal of the season; and the wines were of the best kind, and in profusion; on the whole, this ball gave great satisfaction to all present.

The Assembly Room is the largest in Britain, except the great room at Bath, and is said to exceed in elegance and just proportion; it is ninety-two long, forty-two broad, and thirty feet high. The building of the whole rooms, &c. has cost about eight thousand pounds.

The following members of the Hunt were present at the Ball:—

Lord Elibank, King of the Ball.
Duke of Gordon.
Earl of Hadinton.
Earl of Glencairn.
Lord Elphinstoun.
Lord Haddo.
Lord Maitland, M. P.

It is supposed the company at the Ball on her Majesty's birth-day, next Thursday, will be equally brilliant, and still more numerous.

We hear, that Mr. Palmer intends in the Spring to extend his plan of the mail coaches to Aberdeen, Glasgow, &c. and that the towns in Scotland to which the post now goes three times a-week, will have a post every day, which will be a great convenience to the public, and advantage to trade and commerce.

Thursday about noon, a gentleman's son was rode over at the end of Prince's-street, near the bridge,
by a chaise driving furiously along, and much hurt,
the wheels going over his body. It has, of late, become too much the practice of coachmen and chaise drivers, to push on their horses too rapidly along the streets, to show their mettle, to the great danger of the inhabitants; it is hoped, this accident
may induce the Magistrates to make some regulations with respect to carriages, driving along the streets of both Old and New Town, Bridge, and suburbs, so necessary to the whole community; and it is expected, humanity will induce proprietors of carriages to order their servants to drive slowly upon the street.

Dr Daniel Rutherford, lately appointed Professor of Botany, is also appointed Botanist to his Majesty,
in the room of Dr Hope, deceased.

On Saturday evening, a woman had her pocket
cut off from her side in the Gallowgate, Glasgow.—
The alarm being given, the thief was pursued and taken; being carried into a smith's shop hard by, he was discovered to be an old offender, though young in years: a consultation was held how to dispose of him, and it was agreed to crop one of his ears.—
The sentence was immediately put into execution and the culprit dismissed.

Last week, as a man and his wife were returning home from Pollockshaws, in the evening, they were attacked on the road by two fellows, and robbed of a pair of silver shoe buckles, and what money they had upon them.

We are informed, that the Presbytery of Loch Carron, considering that most of the young men from their part of the country were educated at King's College, found themselves much interested in the event of a plan in agitation at present, for uniting it with the Marischal College; and, at their meeting of the 28th of November last, having reasoned at considerable length on the outlines of said
intended plan published by the Marischal College, and paid every attention to it which a matter of such importance deserves, the Presbytery decidedly and unanimously declared their disapprobation of the said plan.

The Plans submitted to the attention of the public, by HORNSBY and Co. are truly and confessedly the most advantageous, because they are manifestly the most secure. The engagements they are now under to the public, in locking up One Thousand Lottery-Tickets at an eminent Banker's in CORNHILL, must give an undeniable security to adventurers. For, at least, they must have from Ten to Twenty Thousand Pounds locked up in their business, to enable them to proceed with so desirable
a mode. This secures a certainty of fulfilling all their undertakings.

Extract of a letter from Perth, January 10.
"I wrote you of the loss by fire in Baillie Imrie's new house. Fortunately for him and his family, both house and furniture were insured in the Dundee Fire-office. By orders from the office, the house was in a few days put in its former state, and every article burnt or damaged was instantly paid for. The Baillie desires me to acquaint you of the readiness with which his loss was paid; as he considers himself indebted to the Office, he wishes you to make public the easy way in which they settle.

"The Betty of Kirkcaldy, Captain Swine, a missing ship, is safe arrived in Holland."

Extract of a letter from Kelso, Jan. 12.

"On Saturday evening last, two of Mr Robertson of New Town of Roxburgh's servants, having taken one of his horses without his permission, to visit their friends on the opposite side of the Tweed,
they attempted to cross at a very dangerous passage,
a little below Makerboun, when the horse fell, and one of them was unfortunately drowned; the other,
with the horse, got out with great difficulty; though diligent search was made for the body of the drowned person, all Sunday and Monday, it was not found till Tuesday forenoon. This should be a warning to servants not to use their master's property without leave, and to the public in general to refrain from using that dangerous passage across the Tweed."

"On Monday night last, about seven o'clock, Mr Dickenson in Scraesburgh was attacked, on the road between this and Highton, in the hollow on the other side of Spylaw, by two men, who attempted to pull him from his horse, but he had the good fortune to disengage himself from them after knocking one of them down. The night was so dark, he can give no description of them."

"Last Christmas day, and frequently since, there was presented at table in Neathorn-house, large asparagus, pease, kidney beans, and cauliflower. So quaint as good as in summer, all produced without the help of a hot-house, flue, or any thing of the like nature. The gardener there lately produced a grown fallow from the feed, in a close room, in the space of twenty-two minutes and a half, before a numerous company, by the power of electricity;
and he likewise proposes in the ensuing season
to produce a bushel of barley from a single barley corn."

"For a fortnight past, the weather has been remarkably mild for the season. The Thermometer at noon, varying from 40 to 50 degrees, which is a very unusual degree of heat in the middle of winter."

HIGHLAND SOCIETY.
GENERAL MEETING of this Society
was held here on Tuesday the 9th current, agreeable to the institution, and honoured by a numerous attendance of Noblemen and Gentlemen distinguished for their patriotic exertions to promote the welfare of their country.

In absence of the Duke of Argyll, President of the Society, Sir William Forbes of Pittligo, Bar-
net, one of the Vice-Presidents, took the chair,
when Lord Mountlewart, Sir George Ramfay, Baronet, Sir J. Hunter-Blair, Bart. Mr Erskine of Marr, and thirteen other candidates, were admitted members, after a ballot, as required by the rules of the Society.

The proceedings of the Committee of Directors and Managers for the year 1786 were read over, taken under the consideration of the Meeting, and approved of.

The Meeting proceeded to elect their President,
Vice-Presidents, and other Officers, for the next year, when the following were unanimously chosen, viz.

- His Grace the Duke of ARGYLL continued as President.
The Earl of Aboyne,
Sir William Forbes of Pittligo, Bart. Vice
The Hon. Henry Erskine, and Robert Dundas, Esq; younger of Arniston, Sol. Gen. for Scotland. Presidents
David Stuart, Esq; Treasurer.
William Macdonald, Esq; Secretary.
Mr John Leslie, Depute Secretary.
Mr Alexander Maclellan, Recorder and Clerk.
Besides the Committee of thirty Ordinary Directors resident in Edinburgh, for managing the affairs of the Society, they elected the following members Extraordinary Directors.

- The Earl of Moray.
Lord Salton.
The Lord Advocate.
Lord Ankerhill.
Sir John Sinclair of Ulbster, Bart.
Aeneas Macintosh of Macintosh, Esq;
John Campbell of Airds, Esq;
James Robertson, Esq; of Lude.
Alex. Macleod, Esq; of Harries. And,
Robert Graham, Esq; of Gartmore.

The Meeting afterwards voted the thanks of the Society to the Committee of Directors and Managers for last year; and also to the Earl of Moray
and the Lord Advocate, the two senior Vice-Presidents, who go out of office this year, for their steady and spirited conduct in promoting the views of the institution.

The Society voted a sum of money, as usual, to be laid out by the Committee in premiums, to the authors of essays of merit, on the subject of the Fisheries, and other objects connected with their plan, and for promoting Agriculture and Manufactures.

The Meeting further resolved, forthwith to apply for a Royal Charter, in order to render the Society
a body corporate; and with that view, and also for enabling them when incorporated to hold shares in the Joint Stock Company, lately established by act of Parliament, for promoting the Fisheries, considerable sums were subscribed; and the subscription
paper is to lie with the Secretary, so that members absent from the Meeting, who approve of the measure, may also have an opportunity to subscribe.

Upon reading the copy of a letter from Mr Fraser of Lovat to the Earl of Braedalbane, Deputy Governor of the British Joint Stock Company, transmitted by Lovat, to be communicated to the Society; the thanks of the Meeting, upon motion, were delivered to Mr Fraser, in the politest manner.

by the Vice President in the Chair, for the early communication of his sentiments in so forcible and accurate a manner, on a subject of such general importance.

After hearing a report from the Sub Committee
upon a series of letters from Mr Knox, an honorary member of the Society, to the Secretary, during his late laborious and hazardous tour, undertaken and carried on at his own private expense, fully, through most of the Western Isles, and along the sea coasts of this kingdom, relative to the Fisheries, and the proper stations for harbours, towns, and villages, in the Highlands and Islands, in the view of protecu-ting the plan of national improvements; the Society unanimously approved of the resolution of Commissioners. That the thanks of the Society are justly due to Mr Knox for his writings and publications, as containing much important and useful information on the subjects treated of, and for his unwearied perseverance, disinterested and spirited conduct, in attempting to bring forward at his own private expense these national objects, to the attention and view of government, and for the early communication to the Society of his judicious remarks and proposals; and, that a Gold Medal of Ten Guineas value, with a proper device and inscription, shall be presented to Mr Knox in name of the Society, as a mark of approbation of his meritorious conduct and patriotic exertions to promote the welfare of the nation at large.

To the Printer of the Caledonian Mercury.
SIR,

THE present establishment of the officers in the Customs, has frequently been a subject of very general complaint. At this time when government is at so much pains in consulting the Commercial interest about the very defensible business of consolidating the Customs, it were much to be with-ed, that the respectable Chambers and other societies who have this matter under consideration, would also have in view the propriety of abolishing the fees, and the material advantages that would arise from putting the officers by adequate salaries, upon that footing, to which, by their rank and respectability, they are entitled.

A suggestion of this kind to the Treasury might be given just now with great propriety. It certainly would be of consequence to the merchants; and it is to be hoped it would be agreeable to the gentlemen of the Customs, for undoubtedly government and they would both ultimately feel its advantage.

Sixpence, which has been so universally supported for twenty Lotteries past; and they make no doubt but they shall receive, from their worthy patrons, every countenance and support on the present occasion, as HORNSBY AND CO.
are determined to pursue every measure to the entire satisfaction of the public.

paid to the public by Hornsby and Co. render it impossible for them to continue publishing a list of prizes which they

TO be SOLD by public roup or auction, within the Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, upon Wednesday the 24th January 1787, betwixt the hours of six and seven afternoon.

I. The Barony of CLOWDEN, alias NEWARK, lying in the parish of Kirkpatrick Inrogray, and stewardry of Kirkcubright, comprehending the lands and farms of Rowton Bridge, Upper, Nether, and Mid Dalwhairn, Lagg, Rouchtree, Hallhill, Cobbeholm, Newark Bracs, Whinnyhill, Ingletton, Gatefield, or Kirkpatrick and Clowden, with the corn, barley, and wheat mills, a salmon fishing in the river Clowden, and the vice patronage of the parish of Kirkpatrick Inrogray.

This estate is of a remarkable good soil, well inclosed and subdivided with thriving full grown hedges; it is at present in good condition, and there is sufficiency of shell marl upon it to keep it so. It contains about 1870 English acres, whereof 1500 are arable and meadow, about 90 woodland, and the remainder very good pasture. The present rent is 824 l. 1 s. 1 d. Sterling, and the tenants beside pay the vicinal stipend and school salary; but a considerable rise of rent may be depended on at the expiry of the current leases. It holds of the Crown, and stands rated in the cess-books at 1260 l. 10 s. Scots. The tenants are valued, and the purchaser will have right to them.

The woods are well inclosed, and very thriving; at last cutting they sold for upwards of 700 l. Sterling, exclusive of the woods on Hallhill, which are presently fit for sale.

This estate is pleasantly situated on the banks of the river Clowden, within three miles of the town of Dumfries; and it has many delightful situations upon it for building a mansion-house, which would command the view of the rivers Nith and Clowden, the town and port of Dumfries, the whole gentlemen seats in that rich and populous neighbourhood, the Solway Frith, and the Cumberland hills; and there is a good free-stone quarry on the estate, near a good stance for a mansion-house.

Mr W. Black, at Nando's Coffeehouse, London, can give a full description of this estate.

II. The Lands of Over and Nether BARNCLEUGHS, lying in the said parish and county, within a mile and an half of Clowden, consisting of about 200 English acres, whereof 160 are arable, and 19 mofs, where there is an inexhaustible quantity of shell marl.

These lands are all sufficiently inclosed and subdivided with good stone walls. The present rent is only 50 l. but when the current lease expires at Martinmas 1787, a considerable rise will be got.

The tenants are valued, and the purchaser will have right to them.

III. These parts of the Barony of GLASSNOCK, lying in the parish of Penningham and county of Wigton, comprehending the farms of Over and Nether Glassnocks, and Kileal, with a salmon-fishing in the river Bladnoch, and the superiority of the lands of Drumroy and Carluke, lying in the parish of Kirkcovan, and county of Wigton.

There are good grazing lands both for black cattle and sheep. The present rent, including the feu-duties in Kirkcovan parish, is only 81 l. 11 s. 2 d. and services and casualties to the value of about 5 l. more; but the tenants paid large grassums in 1766, when their leases commenced; so, in 1787, when they expire, a great rise may be depended on, the tenants pay all the public burdens, stipend excepted.

The title-deeds, conditions of sale, tacks, rentals, plans, and measurements of the several estates before mentioned, will be seen in the hands of William Campbell writer to the signet, Edinburgh; and, for further information, apply to Alexander Farquharson accountant in Edinburgh, who has power to sell by private bargain.

John Linton, in Gatefield, near Dumfries, will show the estate of Clowden; and Mr Cockburn, at Cree-bridge, the lands in Wigtonshire.

The following LANDS and others, lying in the parish of Troqueer, and stewardry of Kirkcubright, in the lots after specified, viz.

LOT I. These parts of the Lands of DRUNGANS, presently possessed by Mrs Carlyle and William Wright, with the superiority of the whole six-mark-land of Drungans, which afford an undoubted freehold qualification to vote for a member of Parliament. The purchaser will have a very near prospect of the casualty for an entry from the proprietor of these four-fifths of the lands of Drungans, which hold of Mr Carlyle.

There is a good house on the lands of Drungans, consisting of six rooms, besides light closets, kitchen, apartments for servants, and other conveniences on the ground-floor, with offices adjoining, and a good garden.

That part of the lands, with the house possessed by Mrs Carlyle, is not under lease, but is reckoned worth 21 l. Sterling yearly.

The remainder of the lands is possessed by William Wright, by a minute of agreement for nine years after Candlemas 1783, under proper restrictions as to tillage, at the rent of 55 l. Sterling. But the purchaser may have it in his power to remove this tenant at Candlemas 1788, on six months previous notice.

For the encouragement of offerers, this lot will be exposed at 2000 l. Sterling.

LOT II. The INCLOSURE on the Bank of Troqueer, adjoining to the mills, presently possessed by Robert Carlyle, at the yearly rent of 2 l. 15 s. It is not under lease, and will be exposed at the upset price of 60 l.

LOT III. The FEU-DUTIES of sundry houses and yards lying in the Bridge-end of Dumfries, above the mill-loaning, extending to 37 l. 18 s. 1 d. Sterling yearly, with the bygone arrears of feu-duties at and preceding Candlemas 1787; amounting, agreeable to list thereof, to 966 l. 10 s. 1 d. 6-12ths. These feu-duties and arrears will be exposed at 1000 l. Sterling.

The rental and measurement of the lands of Drungans, the rental of the feu-duties, and list of arrear thereof, as mentioned in Lot III. with the articles of roup, and inventory of the progress of the whole three lots, to be seen in the hands of William Campbell writer to the signet, and copies thereof in the hands of Robert Ramsay writer in Dumfries.

For further particulars, application may be made to Mr William Keith accountant in Edinburgh, who has power to sell by private bargain.

Building Areas to be Feued

BY PUBLIC ROUN.

THERE are to be FEUED by public roup, within the Old Exchange Coffeehouse, Edinburgh, on Friday the 26th January 1787, at six o'clock afternoon.

Several AREAS for building on, lying on the west side of the road to Leith, and adjoining to the buildings called Antigua-street.

The ground is laid out according to a plan; the situation of it is remarkably pleasant; the extensive views it affords, without the possibility of interruption, and the uncommonly beautiful variety of these views, mark it as admirably adapted for building.

The center of this ground is at the same distance from the Bridge as No. 30, in Prince's Street, which is several doors east of Hanover-street—as the church in George-street, and as the corner house of Queen-street, fronting St David's-street; and when the buildings on the ground stand some time ago by the trustees for the public records are finished, these will almost connect it with the town.—The opening, too, from Queen's-street to the road to Leith, which is soon to take place, will be of considerable importance to it. The advantages to be derived in building here, from the vicinity of the situation to the Register Office, with which so many persons of business have necessarily a connection, are obvious.

According to the plan, the buildings will have plots of back ground for the purposes of gardens and offices. The possessors of these will have the privilege of an open area, and will also have the liberty of intended washing houses, and a large bleaching green, to be appropriated for the accommodation of the whole feuers. There is plenty of excellent water on the ground.

Independent of all these advantages, the feuers will be freed of the land cess and every other public tax, and will be exempted too from all the town's burdens. No premium or purchase-money will be demanded; and the payment of the feu-duty will not commence until the buildings are finished.

Further particulars may be had, and the plan of the ground may be seen, upon application to Mr James Jollie, writer to the signet, Royal Bank Close.

A HOUSE and AREA to be sold.

AS the HOUSE presently possessed by the Antiquarian Society, lying on the north side of the Cowgate of Edinburgh, is found improper for the purpose of their Museum, it is proposed to dispose of the same, with the Area thereto belonging, by public roup, on Friday the 19th January curt. in the Exchange Coffeehouse, between the hours of twelve and one noon. The House consists of three stories, containing the following apartments, and conveniences, viz. In the ground storey a large kitchen, a servants hall adjoining, an ale cellar, a coal cellar, and a cellar fitted up with catacombs;—on the parlour floor, a lobby, a large parlour, three fire-rooms, and a room without a fire place;—on the second floor, five rooms with fire places;—on the third floor, the same number of fire rooms, with two large closets;—and in the upper or garret floor, which is neatly lathed and plastered, the same number of apartments.

On the west side of the house, a hen-house, middling-sized, and two little houses;—on the front of the Area, and on the line with the Cowgate, two handsome pavilions, for stable, coach-house, and hay-lofts. The area is in length from north to south 228 feet, and in breadth fronting the Cowgate, 66 feet. There is a water-pipe in the house from the town's pipes, which runs into a large cistern of lead at the kitchen door. There is a carriage entry to the house by the Cowgate, and also a foot entry from the High Street, by the New Bank Close.

The premises are in good order, and may be seen every day, Sundays excepted, between eleven and two o'clock.

For particulars enquire at John Dundas writer to the signet, who has power to conclude a private bargain; or to Mr Cumming the Secretary for the Society, at the house, by whom it will be shown.

The whole lands are out of lease at Whitfunday.

The lands hold of the Crown, and entitle the proprietor to vote for a member of Parliament for the county; and the title-deeds are clear and complete.

Any person inclining to purchase by private bargain betwixt and the day of sale, may apply to Charles McIntosh, writer to the signet, in whose hands the progress of writs, articles of roup, and rental may be seen; and who will give any further information that may be wanted.
